1. Nature of business

VersaPay Corporation ("the Company") is incorporated under the laws of British Columbia, Canada, and its principal place of business is Suite 1800, 18 King Street East, Toronto, Canada. The Company is a financial technology company that provides a cloud-based accounts receivable automation software and integrated payment solutions for businesses. Through its VersaPay Solutions segment ("Solutions"), the Company focuses on electronic invoice presentment with its ARC™ software ("ARC™") and develops value added payment technologies such as PayPort™ (previously known as Electronic Money Transfer, or "EMT").

The Company sells to customers in Canada and the United States ("U.S.").

2. Basis of preparation

(a) Statement of compliance

These condensed interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"). The policies applied in these condensed interim consolidated financial statements are based on IFRS issued and effective as at June 30, 2019. The Board of Directors approved the condensed interim consolidated financial statements on August 6, 2019. These condensed interim consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's 2018 annual consolidated financial statements.

These condensed interim consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company's wholly-owned U.S. subsidiary, VersaPay Payment Technology Solutions, Inc. which was incorporated on May 17, 2012. Intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated upon consolidation.

Changes to significant accounting policies are described in note 3.

(b) Basis of measurement

The condensed interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis. Other measurement bases used are described in applicable notes.

(c) Functional and presentation of currency

The condensed interim consolidated financial statements are presented in Canadian dollars, which is the Company's functional currency.

(d) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of the condensed interim consolidated financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that management considers to be relevant. Actual results could differ from these estimates and assumptions.

Judgments, estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis, and revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the year in which the estimates are revised and in any future years affected.

In management's opinion, all adjustments considered necessary for fair presentation have been included in these financial statements. Historical results are not necessarily indicative of the results expected for the upcoming financial year. Annual results may differ from past estimates. The significant judgments are reviewed by Management throughout the year to ensure they remain applicable and have been applied in a consistent manner.

(e) Comparative information

Certain comparative figures have been adjusted (recast) for the three and six months ended June 30, 2018 as a result of adjustments identified in connection with completion of the Company's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2018. The identified adjustments impacted intra-period revenue, cost of sales and cash and cash equivalents throughout 2018. These comparative figure adjustments were not considered material and did not affect the Company's consolidated revenue or consolidated net loss for the full year.

Certain comparative figures have also been reclassified to conform with current year presentation.

3. Changes in accounting policies

Except for the adoption of IFRS 16 - Leases, the significant accounting policies used in preparing these condensed interim consolidated financial statements are unchanged from those disclosed in the Company's 2018 annual consolidated financial statements and have been applied consistently to all periods presented in these condensed interim consolidated financial statements.

IFRS 16 - Leases

IFRS 16 introduced a single on-balance sheet accounting model for lessees, requiring the recognition of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities representing the Company's obligation to make lease payments.

Effective January 1, 2019, the Company adopted IFRS 16 using the modified retrospective approach with the cumulative effect of initially applying the standard as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings at January 1, 2019. The comparative figures (2018) has not been restated.

The Company elected to use the following practical expedients available under the standard:

- Apply a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics;
- Account for lease and non-lease components as a single lease component for lease liabilities related to property leases;
- Exclude the initial direct costs for the measurement of right-of-use assets at the date of initial application;
- Not to recognize right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for (1) short-term leases, that have a lease term of 12 months or less, as well as for (2) leases of low value assets - $5,000. The payments for such contracts would be accounted for as an expense in the period.

A. The Company's accounting policy under IFRS 16 is as follows:

(a) Definition of lease

At inception of a contract, the Company assesses whether a contract is, or contains, a lease based on whether the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. The Company has elected to apply the practical expedient to grandfather the lease definition for existing contracts on transition. It applied the definition of a lease under IFRS 16 to existing contracts as of January 1, 2019.

(b) Lessee

The Company recognizes a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, based on the initial amount of the lease liability. The assets are depreciated to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the lease term using the straight-line method as this most closely reflects the expected pattern of consumption of the future economic benefits. The lease term includes periods covered by an option to extend if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability, if the case may be.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company's incremental borrowing rate.

The lease liability is measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments, if there is a change in the Company's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or if the Company changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option.

When the lease liability is remeasured, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset, or is recorded in the statement of income if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

(c) Sub-lease

When the Company is an intermediate lessor, it determines at lease inception date whether each sub-lease is a finance lease or an operating lease based on whether the contract transfers substantially all of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset. If this is the case, then the sub-lease is a finance lease; if not, then it is an operating lease.

For finance leases, and when the Company acts as intermediate lessor, it recognizes a sublease receivable and derecognizes the right-of-use assets relating to the head lease that it transfers to the sub lessees. Right-of-use assets and lease receivables relating to the sub leases are measured in the same way as the right- of-use assets and lease liabilities for the head lease, using the same discount rate to measure the present value of the future payments to be received.

The Company presents accretion expense in the head lease separate from the accretion income from the sub-leases.

B. Explanation of adoption of IFRS 16 Leases

On initial application, the Company has elected to record right-of-use assets based on the corresponding lease receivable and/or lease liabilities. Lease receivable and liabilities have been measured by discounting future lease payments at the incremental borrowing rate at January 1, 2019. The incremental borrowing rate applied was 6.0% per annum and represents the Company's best estimate of the rate of interest that it would expect to pay to borrow, on a collateralized basis, over a similar term, an amount equal to the lease payments in the current economic environment.

The application of IFRS 16 to leases, previously classified as operating leases under IAS 17, resulted in the recognition of right-of-use assets, lease liabilities and lease receivable. The Company derecognized right- of-use asset relating to the head lease that it transferred to sub lessee (for the sublease of a property lease) and recognized lease receivable (current and long term) from the sublease and recognized $225,300 gain adjusted to the opening accumulated deficit.

In the condensed interim statements of financial position, lease liabilities relating to leases were previously classified as finance leases under IAS 17. There has been no change in the liabilities recognized.

(Canadian dollars)

The following tables summarizes the impacts of adopting IFRS 16 on the Company's condensed interim financial statements for the three and six months ended June 30, 2019:

	Three months ended June 30, 2019 As reported, for the period ended $	Adjustments	Three months ended June 30, 2019 without adoption of IFRS 16 $

6. Financial instruments

Fair value hierarchy

The table below analyzes financial instruments carried at fair value, by valuation method.

- level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- level 2 inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included in level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability either directly (i.e. prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); and
- level 3 inputs are inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (i.e. unobservable inputs).

In the table below, the Company has segregated all financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value into the most appropriate level within the fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used to determine the fair value at the measurement date.

Financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value as at June 30, 2019 and December 31, 2018 in the condensed consolidated interim financial statements are summarized below. The Company has no additional financial liabilities measured at fair value after initial recognition other than those recognized in connection with business combinations.

	June 30, 2019				December 31, 2018
	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total

There were no transfers of fair value measurement between level 1, 2 and 3 of the fair value hierarchy in the periods ended June 30, 2019 and December 31, 2018.

Fair values versus carrying amounts

The table below sets out the Company's financial assets and financial liabilities measured at amortized cost – the carrying amount, together with the fair value, as at June 30, 2019 and December 31, 2018. The carrying values of cash and cash equivalents, receivables (trade, lease and other), funds held for merchants, accounts payments and accrued liabilities, lease liabilities and funds due to customers approximate their fair values due to the nature of these financial instruments.

(a) Credit risk

The Company has credit risk as a result of its trade accounts receivable. The concentration of credit risk is limited due to the fact that the client base is large. As such, the Company does not anticipate any significant credit losses.

The maximum exposure to credit risk in terms of trade receivables as at June 30, 2019 and December 31, 2018 was:

	June 30, 2019	December 31, 2018
Trade receivable - gross balance	1,678,098	1,265,175

(b) Market risk:

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates and interest rates, will affect the fair value of future cash flows of financial instruments.

(i) Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the future cash flows or fair value of the Company's financial instruments will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. Approximately 56% and 54% of revenue is transacted in U.S. dollars for the three and six months ended June 30, 2019 (32.6% and 29% for the three and six months ended June 30, 2018) and the Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk thereon.

If the Canadian dollar weakened by 10% relative to the U.S. dollar, the Company's revenues, for the three and six months ended June 30, 2019, would increase by approximately $0.1 million and $0.2 million, respectively and the Company's net income, for the three and six months ended June 30, 2019, would increase by $0.09 million and $0.2 million, respectively.

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Company is exposed to minimal interest rate cash flow risk as the interest rate on obligations under finance lease is fixed.

(c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company may encounter difficulty in raising funds to meet its financial commitments or can only do so at excessive cost. The Company ensures there is sufficient liquidity to meet its short-term business requirements, taking into account the need for cash to continue operations and execute future plans, its current holdings of cash and the ability to raise additional funds from external shareholders. With the exception of obligations under finance lease, all of the Company's financial liabilities have contractual maturities of less than 45 days.

7. Contingencies

In the normal course of operations, the Company is subject to litigation and claims from time to time. The Company may also be subject to lawsuits, investigations and other claims, including environmental, labour, income and sales tax, product, customer disputes and other matters. Management believes that adequate provisions have been recorded in the accounts where required. Although it is not always possible to estimate the extent of potential costs, if any, management believes that the ultimate resolution of such contingencies will not have a material adverse impact on the results of operations, financial position or liquidity of the Company.

8. Revenue
